[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO DECEMBER 15.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, Dec 9—In the House a large number of bills and resolutions were introduced and referred. Among them is one declaring that the Government will afford naturalized citizens the same protection as the native. Also one authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to sell certain of the gross stocks now held for the redemption of bonds. Also, one for the resumption of specie payments providing that after March, 1868, all greenbacks received in the Treasury shall be destroyed and new ones issued pro rata in not one year from date. Many other financial measures were introduced. A bill was introduced creating a Council consisting of the Secretary of War and Attorney General. It authorizes the issue of Government bonds to the Pacific Railroad.

An animated discussion came up on Butler's motion to refer that portion of the President's message which relates to the purchase of Alaska to the Committee on Appropriations. Butler and others taking ground that the treaty is not operative until the House has made the appropriation. The resolution was rejected and the subject referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs. The House then adjourned.

In the Senate the Chair submitted several communications in response to inquiries and petitions, one was from Francisco Canning and others stockholders of the central Branch of the Pacific Railroad, praying that nothing contained in the act relating to the Eastern division of the Pacific Railroad, was to be construed to the prejudice of the Branch.

Ramsey offered a resolution for preliminary arrangements for a treaty with Canada, with regard to duties on importations and free navigation of lakes and river St Lawrence and fisheries.

Chandler called up the resolution recognizing Abyssinia as belligerent power. After remarks by several Senators the matter was dropped and the Senate adjourned.

WASHINGTON Dec 10—In the House the Speaker announced as Committee on Reconstruction, Stevens, Boutwell, Bingham, Farnsworth, Hulburt, Beaman, Lance Brooks and Beck.

Paine offered a resolution which was adopted, inquiring into the expediency of establishing a United States Arsenal at Fort David Russell near Cheyenne. After some further business, the Speaker announced the subject before the House for consideration to be the Constitution bill, which was postponed from the 19th of March last. Chandler and Eldridge spoke in opposition to the bill. Its further consideration is postponed until January 21st.

The house has agreed to adjourn for the holidays, from December 20th to January 6th. Adjourned.

In the Senate the Chair presented a communication from the Secretary of the Treasury in response to a resolution of inquiry, stating in consequence of the resignation of Chandler, Assistant Secretary, Edmund Cooper has been authorized to assume the duties of Assistant Secretary of the Treasury under Act of 1795, till his successor be appointed.

A resolution was adopted, asking the Secretary of the Interior to furnish information in relation to the bonds issued to the Pacific Railroad.

Sumner introduced a resolution which was adopted, asking the President to furnish copies of the correspondence relating to the recognition of belligerent rights by England during the rebellion; also regarding the depredations committed by privateers equipped in England.

Doolittle offered an amendment to Wilson's bill, introduced last week providing that persons who have been voting in the Southern States shall be sufficient to ratify the Constitutional Amendment. It provides that no person shall be a legal voter not possessing the qualifications required in the State by the first election, except those serving in the army, those able to read and write and those possessed of property to the amount of $250. The subject was discussed till the expiration of the morning hour.

Drake's resolution condemning the language of the President's message, was taken up. Drake denounced the President's declaration that the laws are unconstitutional. He spoke at considerable length and was very severe upon the President.

Johnson, of Maryland desired to speak on the subject and wished it postponed till to-morrow, which was accordingly done, when the Senate went into executive session. Adjourned.

WASHINGTON, Dec 11.—In the Senate a number of petitions were presented on various subjects.

Wilson introduced a bill to sell land and water privileges of the United States at Harper's Ferry.

Anthony introduced a bill declaring null and void all acts for confiscation under rebel government decrees and rebel courts.

Sherman called up the House bill directing certain money in the hands of Government employees from the proceeds of sale of captured and abandoned property to be paid into the Treasury. Some discussion occurred. Trumbull said the Secretary of the Treasury paid those sums of dollars of the money to claimants without authority. He said such payments could only be made under an order of the Court of Claims. Subject finally postponed without action.

Wadsworth, Dec 12—The Senate resolution was adopted, directing the Executive Department to contract for stationary longer than one year.

The bill requiring that the money arising from the sale of captured and abandoned property to be paid into the Treasury, was further discussed and finally postponed till Monday.

Drake's resolution, censuring the President's message, was opposed by Kennedy Johnson.

In the House, a number of resolutions were introduced of minor importance.

The lines work very badly and it is difficult to get reports from the South.

Washington, Dec 12—In the House a large number of bills and resolutions were introduced.

A resolution was referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs, inquiring into the expediency of passing a law, requiring the diplomatic and consular representatives to the U. Liberia and other parts of Africa, to be appointed from colored citizens.

A joint resolution was referred, retaining volunteer officers in the freedmen's bureau in service till July.

Other unimportant business was transacted in the House, when it adjourned.

The President sent to the Senate an official notice of the suspension of Secretary Stanton with his reasons therefor. It was referred to the Judiciary Committee. The document covers some of Stanton's correspondence and says of the last General order, in 1866, telegraphed to Stanton that the Convention was about to assemble at New Orleans. He said the city authorities intended to break it up. The General asked Stanton for instructions. Stanton neither gave the instructions or informed the President of the reception of the dispatch. The President knew nothing of its existence till after the riot had occurred. The President takes the ground, therefore, that Stanton is responsible for the delinquency, for if he has been informed that General Baird had asked the advice, the riot might have been prevented. The President says: "So far as the public interests are concerned, there is no cause of regret for the removal, because his services, by measures of economy, has saved millions of dollars to the Government."

CHICAGO, Dec 13—We have House proceedings of Wednesday, received by mail.

Washburne of Illinois made a strong speech against any appropriation for the purchase of Alaska.

A bill passed providing that Brevet commissions shall only be issued in time of war and for gallant and meritorious conduct in the face of the enemy.

Several sent in communications stating that the correspondence with the British Government regarding the arrest of naturalized citizens, is being copied, but it is very voluminous.

The Military Committee reported adversely to paying the army weekly. The same committee reported back the bill declaring that no officer cashiered or dismissed by court martial, shall ever be restored, except by Greek appointment or confirmation. After considerable acrimonious debate the bill was passed.

The House after the transaction of minor business, went into Committee of the Whole. Several speeches were made on the impeachment question.

In the Senate, Wilson presented a memorial from Warren and American citizens confined as a Fenian in Dublin. He declares the offence for which he is imprisoned was committed in New York.

Cragin from the Committee on Territories, reported a bill regulating the election of jurors in Utah. The bill forbids polygamy and makes the issue therefrom illegitimate. Establishes elections and repeals the law exempting the Church of the Latter Day Saints from taxation.

Sherman called up his bill to repeal the cotton tax. After considerable debate it was postponed.

Wilson called up his House bill securing an extension of bounties to families of soldiers who died since the passage of the law with slight amendments to the bill, which passed.

The House passed a resolution to adjourn during the holidays.

The Senate then went into executive session. Adjourned until Monday.

Twenty houses were entirely demolished. Forty persons, men, women and children were found wounded. Four have already died. The house opposite has been suspected for a long time of being a Fenian recruiting quarters. The street is ripped up for a considerable distance by the force of the explosion. The wife of Kelly is terribly excited, and everybody alarmed, no knowing where the next blow may fall. The Government will resort to more stringent measures.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—Russell intends to move in the House of Lords, December 23d, a resolution to the effect that the education of the working classes in England and Ireland is inadequate. The Imperial Gazette failed to have the rights and bindings of an educational and that it is the duty of the State to guard and maintain that right.

FLORENCE, Dec 8—It is reported that Garibaldi has again disappeared from Caprera, and it is feared that the party of action will attempt a manifestation at Rome.

The speech of the French Minister, Rouher, declaring that Italy should not take forcible possession of Rome, gave rise to an angry debate in the Italian Chambers of Deputies. Menotti said he had asked the French Government for an explanation of the speech, and expected to receive the reply on Monday. He added that Italy could only obtain Rome with the concurred consent of the people, even if with a small majority. At the end of the debate, the vote was taken and the Government sustained.

PARIS, Dec 8—Fears are entertained of a ministerial crisis, in consequence of Rouher's last speech on the foreign question.

NEW YORK Dec 14—A Herald Atlanta special despatch says there is great excitement in the convention today. Blount rose and charged the majority of the convention with conspiring at fraud and being determined to do wrong to the people of Georgia. Great excitement ensued. Blount refused to take his seat and finished his denunciation and tendered his resignation. The probabilities are that it will be a very stormy session. The authorities are very insolent to the whites.

The late storms swept with fury along the Atlantic coast. Many stories of shipwreck are coming in.

Heavy Robbery in New York.

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—The clearing house clerk was robbed in the street of a satchel containing six hundred thousand dollars in checks and five hundred in currency by two men in a sleigh, who beat him severely. Payment of the checks has been stopped.

The sailing of the California steamer Santiago de Cuba is postponed till Monday.

Southern News

CHICAGO, Dec 11—Gen Ord has directed the Convention of Arkansas and Mississippi to assemble at their respective seats on 7th.

ATLANTA, Dec 10—The Convention elected J. R. Parrott permanent Chairman. This is regarded as a triumph of the more conservative wing. Parrott urged the Convention to do nothing calculated to throw additional obstacles in the way of the Republicans or to put a weapon in the hands of their enemies.

CHICAGO, Dec 11—The latest advices show the Conventions certainly carried in Mississippi and South Carolina.

NASHVILLE, Dec 11—The House passed a bill repealing the law disqualifying negroes from holding office or sitting on juries.

Intelligence from St Domingo says the brother of Montez, at the head of 8,000 Haytians is on the frontier and threatened to invade the Republic. A sanguinary conflict with Salnave is expected. Salnave has ordered to set fire to the powder magazine and blow up the Capital rather than yield.

The cholera report in 11 days at HAVANA, shows 381 deaths out of 571 cases.

HAVANA Dec 14—It is reported that the Day of Saguana has been tendered to the United States for the loan of one million in gold. The revolution in Curacoa has failed. Montez attempted to escape from Hayti. Great suffering prevails in Jamaica from continued rains, and earthquake shocks continue. Some of the small islands have disappeared.

NEW YORK, Dec 14—The Herald's Havana special has authentic intelligence from Spain which says the Spanish government has made a formal offer to the American government to sell Cuba and Porto Rico. The price is one hundred and fifty millions cash. Iowa, fifty in one year and the balance in six years. Orders to detachment prevailed over the news because of the extermination of slavery as being one of the consequences of such sale, and the unnational pride of Cuba is somewhat disposed to grumble but there is a general feeling of satisfaction. It is regarded here that the bargain will certainly be completed.

HAVANA, Dec 12—Intelligence from Hayti brings bloody tidings. Monitors long from brutally murdered by his fellows, doubtless at the command of Salnave. The ruffian first gave him pain which failing he beat out his brains with an iron bar. Monitor's brother, chained in the same prison, was compelled to witness the tragedy. Negro Suffrage—Johnson Against Johnson.

Of course it has not escaped the attention of any person who has read the message of the acting President that that document is largely devoted to the negro. Mr. Johnson views this subject wholly from a Democratic standpoint, and with a true Democratic perception of its importance, devotes about half his message to it. His mind is filled with painful apprehensions lest the negro may obtain the mastery over the white man; lest the latter may not be able to compete on equal terms with the former; lest, in short, thirty millions of whites may be crushed by four millions of blacks. One argument, and only one, has he omitted. On finishing this portion of his message our surprise was great to find that he had not ended with the reading of each Senator and Representative to know whether they "wanted their daughters to marry niggers." The argument would then have been complete, according to the best Democratic models. As it is, though lacking, it is somewhat imperfect, and must have a great deal of its force by reason of this omission.

Andrew Johnson, like a great many of those [illegible] who now enthusiastically admire him, has a "record." Probably no one will read his [illegible] of "the intelligence of the negro" to exercise the elective franchise, without remembering that A. Johnson's "record" does not [illegible] every crazily with such a doctrine. We [illegible] that "the issue" of our political inheritance to the blacks would be an abandonment of a duty which we owe alike to the memory of our fathers and the rights of our children," we may well wonder, in the first place, why our [illegible] allowed negroes to vote in several States, a right which that race holds to this day; and in the next place we may wonder what strange [illegible] in Andrew Johnson in 1864 and '65 to [illegible] "to this day" as to pronounce for the "[illegible] of our political inheritance" to the [illegible]. For there is no one who does not remember that the author of this message at that time declared in favor of extending the elective franchise to the negro.

When we find him writing this elaborate essay to prove the incapacity of the negro, we cannot help [illegible]ing that he said at Nashville, on 24th of October, 1864, that "loyal men, whether white or black, should control the destinies of the State." When we hear him declaring that it is [illegible] to give the blacks the suffrage, it will be to mind the [illegible] of his views [illegible] in October, 1865, and which reports him as saying that before the [illegible] of Oregon was admitted in 1872, representation ought to be changed from population to voters, and the elective franchise extended without [illegible] color." When we review this tirade against the policy of giving the blacks the ballot, we recall a [illegible] which was stated in August, 1865, by Andrew Johnson to W. L. Sharkey of Mississippi, "that the elective franchise should be [illegible] of color who could read or who owned property to the amount of two hundred and fifty dollars." And when we hear him protesting that impartial suffrage will [illegible] rule in the South, we remember that he told Major Stearns about two years ago that if he were in Virginia he would labor to introduce [illegible]

Such is a part of Andrew Johnson's "record" on the suffrage question. Everything by itself, [illegible] is not by any means in the world who, in Johnson's [illegible] and with a record of this kind [illegible] him, would be brazen enough to publish [illegible] this [illegible]. But such [illegible] are nothing for our present Chief [illegible]. Only a few months ago in [illegible] the [illegible] election laws, he gave [illegible] directly opposite to [illegible] he had given them in his veto message. His [illegible] positions have long since lost the [illegible] of novelty, their only merit; and like the [illegible] changes in the Comedy of Errors, they finally fatigue the attention and make one heartily sick of the play.

Their Financial "Record."—As the Democratic party is never weary of boasting of the [illegible] ability which was exhibited while it controlled the Government, it might be well for some of its orators to come down from generalities and plainly tell, and inform the country how it was that under the last Democratic Administration the [illegible] was largely increased. At the [illegible] of Buchanan's term the debt exceeded $70,000,000; in [illegible] 1857, a few months after his term [illegible] it was less than $30,000,000. Thus, in less [illegible] four years, during a period of profound [illegible] the debt was increased by more than forty millions of dollars, and was greater than it had been [illegible] of the debt of the Revolution and of the War of 1812 had been discharged. Furthermore, the revenues of the Government during Buchanan's term were nearly double what they were ten years earlier. This is a specimen of Democratic financiering which may be seasonably [illegible] at this time when that party is so very officious in obtruding its advice about financial matters. The "record" does not exhibit them in a favorable light, and does not speak so well for their management as they would be glad to make us suppose.

We have waited several days for Beriah to prove by Supreme Court decisions that "when the war ended the 'enemy's territory' was restored to the Union, and the 'aliens' thereby made citizens of the United States;" but he does not fulfill his promise. Beriah can interpret the resolutions of '98 to suit his purposes and confirm his positions; but Supreme Court decisions are not such plastic material. The probability is that he will never again speak of the Supreme Court in connection with "taxing bonds," or in regard to "aliens." On these subjects the Supreme Court is not in his judgment, an authority.

Johnson says in his message: "I have no desire to save from the proper and just consequences of their great crime those who engaged in rebellion." The eighteen thousand special pardons which he has granted, and the sweeping general amnesty which he has published, sufficiently answer this false declaration. Besides, if he does not wish to save them from the consequences of their crime, what occasion is there for him to offer this disclaimer?

Railroad Movements in Idaho.

The following appears in the Boise Statesman of Dec. 7th:

The citizens of Idaho Territory are requested to send delegates to a Convention to be held at Boise City on Monday, the 6th day of January, 1868, for the purpose of memorializing Congress in favor of a grant for a railway, connecting the Union Pacific Railroad with the navigable waters of the Columbia, by way of the Snake river valley.

We suggest that each county send delegates in the proportion of two for each member of the Territorial Legislature, and we recommend that meetings be held in each county on the last Saturday of December, 1867, to choose delegates for the convention called.

We also ask the aid of our fellow citizens of Eastern Oregon and Washington Territory in the movement, and respectfully urge upon them the propriety of holding public meetings in their several localities, to consider and memorialize Congress upon the subject.

The West Indian Cyclone.—Speaking of the recent destructive toronado in the West Indies, the Panama Star says:

There is not a dwelling house in the island [of St. Thomas] that has not suffered, and many have no roofs left. The small houses of the poor are leveled to the ground. Over 300 persons are already buried, and God only knows how many more are killed, wounded and maimed. The lighthouse is totally demolished, together with the gas works, etc. A great part of the damage done to the town was occasioned by the earthquake, which threw down the houses, while the wind swept the debris into the gullies, and the town being built on a hillside, the result was that dams were formed which prevented the natural direction of the waterflow. Here the rain speedily collected in large bodies and thence burst forth in irresistible torrents and over inundated a great portion of the town, fearfully increasing the general wreck and damage. The inundation was thus occasioned by rain, and not as has been stated, by overflow of the sea. Some thirty or forty wrecks encumber the harbor, and so great is the damage done to it, that it is believed it can never again be valuable for commercial purposes—in short, the harbor is ruined.

It is also stated that owing to the immense amount of animal matter—human remains and domestic animals—lying amid the ruins and rotting amid the tropical heat, that the stench throughout the town was intolerable, and the prevailing opinion is that the next visitation (and which is inevitable) will be an epidemic. The whole effect will be to utterly ruin the island and almost depopulate it. It is calculated that over 500 persons were drowned alone. Not a soul was saved from some vessels. The steamer Wye lost 53 persons; the Rhone, at Peter's Island, lost about 150 souls; the Camargey, 17; only one was saved from the Ameer; the ship Sprague and nearly every vessel in the harbor reported some drowned. The steamer Columbian sunk with 8,000 packages dry-goods; and all the merchants suffer by sale on their goods, through roofless houses. The total loss of life on shore and in the harbor is certainly not less than 700. Upwards of 80 vessels were sunk or dismantled, and a large number of smaller ones destroyed; there was not a lighter left in the harbor; and all the piers and wharves are broken up. The gale lasted about four hours and destroyed, at the least calculation, upwards of $8,000,000 worth of property on shore alone. Of the value of the vessels destroyed we have no estimate.

Literary Items.

Robert Browning is to give us a new poem, before spring, of fifteen thousand lines.

Mr. Motley will soon publish his two concluding volumes of the History of the Netherlands.

Prof. [illegible] Draper's second volume of the History of the Civil War, will soon be ready.

Robert Browning was born in 1812. Mrs. Browning was three years older than her husband, and their happy man. [illegible] goes to disprove the popular idea about disparity of ages.

Benson J. Lossing is carrying through the press his History of the War of 1812-14. This work will be a royal octavo volume of 1000 pages, profusely illustrated by the author.

Longfellow's house, in Cambridge, was Washington's headquarters in Revolutionary times. It is a fine, rambling, roomy, old-fashioned mansion, overlooking a beautiful view across the Charles river. Foolish people have a trick of scribbling their names on his huge gate posts.

Tennyson had to change his residence to a village by the railroad line, because tourists bored him so. Our notorieties are not so troubled; perhaps because the fools are all said to go abroad.

Poor Mr. Tupper! Will he never be left in peace? The Tomahawk suggests, as a fitting memorial to him, a feeble-minded asylum, to be called Tupper Hall, over whose door should be inscribed, "Si monumentum quæris circumspice!"

The papers all seem to think the Messrs. Harpers have made a blunder in spelling the name of their new magazine Bazar. They give it the proper spelling, as it is in the Oriental original of the word, and as transplanted into German. Vide the dictionary.

Almost every week articles are observed in the Herald about a "mongrel government." If any responsible person will avow their authorship, we will try with him the issue which he raises, and we pledge ourself to prove him an ignoramus, as he has already proved himself an egregious ass. But so long as those articles pass under the name of the characterless person who attempts to palm them off as his own, we can take notice of them.

Beriah don't like to have extracts quoted from the paper he published during the rebellion. He even gets mad about it. But that is not strange. A man who was mean enough to make a "secession record" in 1864, would naturally be unreasonable enough to fall to abusing anybody who would mention it now.

Twenty miles of the Pacific Railroad over the California mountains are to be covered. Lovers and newly married couples will all take that route.

Deserving of Confidence.—There is no article which so richly deserves the entire confidence of the community as "Brown's Bronchial Troches." The Troches have received strong commendations from the most celebrated Clergymen, Lawyers and Public Speakers, who speak from personal experience. Those suffering from Asthmatic and Bronchial Diseases, Coughs and Colds, should try the Troches.

First National Bank of Idaho—Boise City, I. T.—Organized March 11th, 1867, (with circulation) under Act of Congress, approved June 3d, 1864. Authorized capital $500,000. Paid up capital, $100,000. B. M. DuRell, President. C. W. Moore, Cashier. Collections of Notes and Accounts on the principal places in Idaho Territory promptly attended to. Exchange for Coin or Currency on this Bank can be purchased of Ladd & Tilton, Portland, Oregon.

Recreation and Amusement.—It is necessary that mortals should have some amusement, and since our city is not blessed with an elegant theatre, or some place of innocent amusement, it is the duty of every man to see that his acquaintances coming to our city should at least be pleased, and how can you please them better than by taking them to KOHN & FISHEL'S, No. 91 Front street, to buy one of those handsome suits they keep for sale.

Bachtel's Photograph Gallery is the only establishment in Oregon that is thoroughly prepared to do all the different styles of work in the art. Photographs from card to life size. The new cabinet cards, &c., &c. Small pictures enlarged (retouched in India ink—painted in water-colors or oil by Mrs. S. J. Rumsey. Pictures that are fading can be reproduced in this way. All negatives taken in this gallery will be carefully preserved, and additional copies had. I have now on hand a very large collection of negatives, the names of which are recorded alphabetically in a book for that purpose that can be seen in the reception room.

I've Vases and Cups nicely gilded outside,
And little Cock Horses for Bobbies to ride;
I've Cannon and Pistols which cannot explode,
For the reason they hold neither wadding or load.
I've steamboats that run—you just wind them in front
And they'll beat the Comet—or the Wilson G. Hunt.
I've a new Locomotive—It can never explode,
'Twas built for the use of Gaston's Railroad,
I've Engines that play—Set them down on the floor
And they'll throw greater streams than old '2' or new '4.'
I've Furniture, Fiddles, and French Fusileers,
Soldiers that look like B. B. Pioneers.
I've Swords made of tin—Guns and Pistols as well,
And the new kind of Drum that rings like a bell.
I've Watches of all sizes—I've Grace Hoops, galore,
And you'll find at McCORMICK'S a full stock of Toys more,
On FRONT STREET the Store is—106,
Where TOYS are as plenty as bees in a hive;
So there and buy them—this is my request,
His Prices are Low and his Stock is the Best.

FOUR MONTICELLO—MOST OF THE TOWN WASHED AWAY.—...ger who arrived last evening by the steamer ...Rescue places us in possession of the following exciting news from Monticello. The storm of rain commenced on the 10th inst. and prevailed till Thursday morning when it ...d for a few hours, but began again with renewed ...ss and continued without cessation for sixty hours, ...the Cowlitz river to rise very rapidly, but not so as to excite any particular alarm at that time. On Friday, upon the arrival of the Rescue, at 2:30 P. M., the banks of the river were only about three feet out of water, and great quantities of drift were running, rendering it ...ely unsafe for the Rescue to remain at her usual ...ing. Capt. Strong, therefore, concluded to refrain a safe mooring at Rainier. At sundown, the freshet ...the water began to tell on the piling driven along the bank to protect it. The drift and the boiling current ...tore them away as if they were but reeds. At midnight, the warehouse washed away, the water then being just about even with the bank, and rising rapidly. At daylight on Sunday morning the current had cut away the bank to within twenty feet of the hotel, kept by Mr. C. B. Huntington, and was running over the ground on ...the hotel stands. Fears now being entertained that the whole town would be submerged, if not washed away, the people began to remove their families and household goods to the higher parts of the town. At 9 A. M. the new building erected by Messrs. Smith Bros. for the Good ...s and a photograph gallery, was noticed to be ...gin to float, and at 11 A. M. it gave way and went with a crash into the surging torrent. At a quarter past ...the main part of the hotel in which was kept the ...telegraph and postoffice, went, also, causing great excitement among the residents of the town. At 2 P. M. the wreck of a building, supposed to be Catlin's warehouse, above ...n, was seen going down the river along with great ...quantities of debris. At the same time, the store and dwelling belonging to Mr. D. L. Huntington, washed away. At 3 P. ...ings of Mr. H. D. Huntington disappeared. The principal part of the village is gone. Great credit is due Capt. Kerns and the crew of the steamer Rescue, who arrived during the upper Cowlitz at 11 A. M. at the ...sence of distress, for their exertions in behalf of those who were compelled to remove to higher grounds. The ...ers were compelled to remove to higher grounds. The ...ing of C. F. Huntington, T. L. Goodwin and the ...goods of Mr. A...n, photographist, were taken up the ...Cowlitz on the 2...to Mr. Wells', where they were ...with the ...ing. The families of Mr. D. Huntington, Mr. Taylor were received into small boats. The first intimation of Mr. Hunt...ington had of the flood was when he jumped out of ...bed on Sunday morning, into water two or three feet deep. ...From the outside had just arrived in an ...ful boat, ...ing to tell him of his ...ation. Mr. Huntington ...ing that day, took ...anxiously for the return of the steamer Rescue. She made an ineffectual ...ort in the ...ng, forced up to Monticello; but ...being so rapid and full of drift running in that ...ion, ...and the lives of those on board, Capt. Strong was compelled to put back to ...Kalama. He strongly against his inclination. At ...Kalama he ...d that the ...had started out ...ing for Olympia. The Rescue had, during the late low water, cut the difficulties and had fallen in the overhanging trees, ...ing considerable rise to carry them out. Captain ...The little steamer Kendall will be patched ...up as the river ...as to ...her ...ervice, and will ...many days or ...the way. Steps ...got up on the new steamer Oneonta ...on Saturday and she ...a trial trip. Everything ...worked in the most ...factory manner. If she starts the ...low as long as the river ...she will ...her ...ings. She went on ...as far as ...Capt. Kautz ...that the new style of ...hull works admirably and that he ...the Oneonta ...built their boats ...after the same plan. The ...ity of the hull is that it is ...ed astern somewhat like a ship's stern, thus ...ing much less water than the usual broad stern.

...TO THE SOUND OUTOR.—Just before dark Saturday evening, the Oneta was ...out from the O. S. N. ...at Ft. to Vaughn's wharf on account of the heavy drifts which were then coming against her. At the latter place she remained in security till noon this afternoon, when a huge log struck her port bow and ...about all the ...splinters. In ...quence of this ...t, she did not get off yesterday morning for ...Repairs were made yesterday, however, and the steamer will leave this morning at the usual hour, for Astoria.

DEATH OF AN OLD OTTICER.—The Vancouver Register ...a notice of the death of Mr. Benjamin Lan...at the ...of this ...Mrs. Mary Rose, on Lewis river. He had reached the ripe old age of 87 ...The Register says: "He has been a Master Mason for ...years, and was a worthy member of that Order at the time of his death. He came to this ...some five or six years ago from the Northern ...and was the father of the Hon. Columbus Lancaster of this county, and Mr. I. I. Lancaster of this ...

A QUIET RUN A WITNESS.—A man named Wm. Mitchell, after having lodged complaints in the Recorder's ...court, charging three several persons with various ...was ...ing ...ing at ...Mitchell, that he had been determined to disappear, as the ...ent of the afternoon in search of him, and ex...himself as determined that Mitchell should appear. If his arrest could be accomplished. Mr. Jacobi rode as far as the White House, but becoming satisfied that the defaulting witness had not gone that way, he returned to the city to pa...another trail.

TRYING TO KILL A DOCTOR.—A Chinaman, named Ah Shim, was arrested yesterday afternoon for an assault upon Dr. Jim, with intent to kill, as is alleged in the complaint. He will have a preliminary examination before Recorder Hoffman this morning. It would be difficult to state the depth of woe or the blight of consternation into which the invalid world would have been thrown had the will-...Shim succeeded in his views expressing the ...ent Republican Platform, viz.

C...NATIONAL FESTIVAL.—The fair and festival by the ...ies of the Congregational Church will open this evening and continue to the close of Wednesday evening. We ...ed to state that the ...have made ample ...ions for an attractive fair, that there will be on ...a great variety of articles, useful and ornamental, ...and that no effort will be spared to ...make the occasion an ...ing one to all visitors.

LOSS OF RAW LOGS.—During Sunday, while the river ...was still rising, the boom which confines the immense raft of saw logs belonging to the firm of Carter, Hayden & Co., broke and let out of confinement quite a large number of logs ...amounting, by timber measurement, to ...between 300,000 and 400,000 feet. This is the greatest loss of ...ty by the flood, on the Willamette, so far as we have heard.

FREEZING.—Yesterday, at this city, the Willamette fell about five inches, in consequence of the sudden decline in the Columbia. At Oregon City the river was still ...very slowly at 1 o'clock P. M. At Salem, as we learn by a ...nger who arrived last evening, the river was falling slowly at 5 o'clock A. M. The news from the Columbia is to the effect that it is also falling.

GOOD DRAGGED AWAY.—Some time during Saturday, a huge floating tree dragged its roots against the telegraph cable stretched across the river, near Milwaukie, and broke it loose from the fastenings at both ends. Yesterday afternoon the wire was again stretched across from the same old tree-tops, as of old, and telegraphic communication was again resumed.

MUNICIPAL ELECTION.—At the annual election of officers for Willamette Lodge No. 2, A. F. and A. M., held last evening, the following persons were chosen: H. Baer, W. M.; S. F. Goodwin, S. W.; T. Frazer, J. W.; O. H. Bella, Treasurer; S. Pennoyer, Secretary; F. Knocke, Tyler. The installation will occur on Thursday the 26th instant.

WILLAMETTE PRODUCE.—Arrived, yesterday, by the steamer Alert, from Oregon City, 34 bbl bbls and 65 cases lard 90 bbl bbls, 2 bbls and 12 boxes miscellaneous produce, 13 cases tallow, 13 boxes eggs, 4 gunnies bacon, 1 bbl soda ash, 14 sks fruit, 35 sks flour, 180 boxes apples, 2 coops turkeys and 10 bdls hops.

ARRIVED.—The steamer Lewiston arrived at this city from the Upper Columbia, Sunday night. She is a small craft, but those who have seen her run, say she "goes like a scared wolf." She left her wharf about 11 o'clock yesterday forenoon, and made her initial trip to Oregon City.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.—We call attention to the interesting ...graphic news published this morning on our first page.

CAPITOL, OLYMPIA, Dec. 11th, 1867.

DR. GRAY, Portland—Sir: I have been in the habit of using the "HEALTH ROYAL BALSAM" in my family, who reside at Walla Walla, Walla Walla county, W. T. I am now at Olympia, attending the present session of the Legislature, and the climate is so different from that of Walla Walla county that I have taken cold, and I have endeavored to purchase some of the medicine here but was unable to do so. Please send a bottle up immediately by mail. I have used nothing else in my family and can not get along without it. Yours truly,

J. M. VANSICKLE.

A WORD TO THE AGED.—In the decline of life the loss of vital force consequent upon physical decay, can only be safely supplied by some vivifying preparation which recruits the strength and spirits, without enfeebling the exhaustion which is always the final effect of ordinary stimulants. We tender to the aged Dr. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, As an invigorant and restorative, immediate in its beneficial action and permanent in its effect. It tones the stomach, improves the appetite, acts like a charm upon the spirits. For dyspepsia, oppression after eating, bilious colic, spasms of the stomach, sick or nervous headache, chills and fever, tremors, prostration, and all the complaints ...ded to the feebler sex, the Bitters are eminently ...ded by thousands who have witnessed their superior ...ency in such cases.—Sold by all Druggists and dealers everywhere.

HODGE, CALEF & CO., Agents, Portland, Oregon.

THE PEOPLE have been so much imposed upon by several worthless Sarsaparillas, that we are glad to be able to recommend a preparation which can be depended on as containing the virtues of that invaluable medicine, and is worthy of the public confidence. Dept. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA cures when anything can cure the disease that requires an alterative medicine.

PERRY DAVIS' VEGETABLE PAIN KILLER.

THE UNIVERSAL REMEDY FOR INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL COMPLAINTS!

At this period there are but few of the human race unacquainted with the merits of the Pain Killer; but while some extol it as a liniment, they know but little of its power in easing pain when taken internally, while others use it internally with great success, but are equally ignorant of its healing virtues when applied externally. We therefore wish to say to all that it is equally successful whether used internally or externally, and it stands alone, unrivalled by all the great catalogue of Family Medicines, and its sale is universal and increasing. The demand for it from India and other foreign countries is equal to the ...and it has become known in these far off places by its merits.

Just Cause for being Alarmed.—When a Cough has been running for a long time, and you begin to feel a pain settling in upon your lungs, attended with ...tights across the chest, it is high time that you should awaken to the danger of your ...which is fast running into Consumption. Now, before it is too late, use ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM, which will cure the ..., and all will be well with you. For sale by the Dealers in Family Medicines generally.

Stephen Woolcombe.

It was very early in the morning quite dark when Stephen Woolcombe quitted his home to go to sea by south Well wrap, dung as a protection against the weather he carried a dark lantern a piece of rope and a bag Half an hour's walk from the gulley which he could descend at the shore the tide was low It was a calm night and but few water fowl were busy at their quiet employment on the sand The key where the boats were moored lay immediately below the gulley and then into the open bay where the moonlight revealed him at the eyes of the watcher—Miss Sapleton and the wreck Margaret crowded almost at the same instant and knowing his destination guessing at rather she took her own path and met to point on her course whence and what that passed in or about the wreck

Stephen Woolcombe came to the confused heap of timbers which a few days ago had been a fine ship, and climbed upon it He did not stop to examine the debris but went to a particular spot with the sure and noiseless step of one familiar with every inch of the timbers which he thought it quite time to go back—he had been an hour on board, and the returning tide was beginning to bubble when his self possession was disturbed by a noise he heard in the direction of the companion way "'Tis only a rat," he exclaimed, half aloud, as if to reassure himself, but the next moment, and was that of one gradually descending the stairs.

Stephen now became very anxious; the perspiration again stood upon his forehead; he raised his crowbar, and drawing a pistol from his pocket, threw the light from his lantern towards the cable door. Built made his soul quake, but his hand remained steady The intruder finally made his way to the cabin door, and Stephen saw with wonder and amazement, the form of Margaret Stapleton before him. She did not seem frightened at what was in sight, but slowly advanced to the side of Woolcombe's side, and quietly said

"What are you doing here? I suspected your errand to night, and followed you here least harm might befall you"

This she said so innocently that Stephen was quite deceived, and when she told him that it was her attachment for him which awed her to come, he believed it.

"Why what have you been doing? Here is fresh blood coming from the man's head, and I see blood on your crowbar. You have committed a murder!" said Margaret, looking full in the face of Woolcombe.

"The dead tell no tales," whispered the devil, again in Stephen's ear

But it was a something forbade him this time from entertaining the idea Love worked so far upon him that he was blinded to his own safety. Margaret however, was prepared for an emergency; a large stiletto was concealed under her shawl, ready at a moment's notice

Woolcombe did not answer to her questions, but said it was useless in her to run the risk of coming down to the wreck, at this time of night, whither he had come for the purpose of rendering any help to those who might require it.

"I do not believe you Stephen Woolcombe, said Margaret "It was for no good reason you came. You came to plunder and steal, thinking to do it secretly and unrevealed, but resolved not to let life stand in your way, if need were at this poor man's feet. You have killed him as you have killed your own wife, whose place you think I am going to fill, as you killed my father, and, as I believe you killed Henry Woolcombe. You are a bad man! Oh, do not attempt violence to me," she said, as Stephen's finger twitched at the look of his pistol, "I am safe enough, but you shall hear me, and you shall answer two questions, or I'll inform the magistrate of what I see and what I suspect. Where is the treasure my father left behind him, and where is Henry Woolcombe?"

II

There was something so new, and withal so commanding in Margaret Stapleton's voice and manner that this guilty man quailed before it The sudden announcement of his crimes by her, whom, after his own way, he loved and whom he could not have supposed to be acquainted with his guilt, staggered him for the moment, till he thought that she could not have spoken from knowledge, but if probed it. Then he resolved to be himself again, and to brave this great charge against him The devil again told him that "he had it still in his power to save himself"

With this thought, he looked up—the light shed by his now dimly burning lantern was the only light visible—and found he could not face the deep penetrating glare of her who was looking him through and through

Abashed and irritated, he refused to speak till Margaret again commanded him. Then he denied all knowledge of her father's treasure and, also, all knowledge of Henry Woolcombe, but Margaret was not to be put off so easily Growing bolder as she saw more and more the extent of her power, she insisted on the information, till love having given place to hatred in the woman's breast, he saw no course open to him between confession or fresh violence. The tide was beginning to beat around to the seaward timbers of the ship, the gray light of morning was showing itself through the open ports of the ship's sides, the dead captain under the table, and the murdered man lying on the locker, became more and more distinct

"Why are you so desirous of knowing the fate of Henry?" said Stephen

"Because I love him, and have loved him, even when I seemed to slight him for you I demand to know where he is"

"I cannot tell where he is I have not seen him since you have"

"And yet you spoke of him the other night when this ship was wrecked You badly him leave you, and threatened him if he did not go"

Stephen now knew for the first time that he must have been watched on that occasion He trembled as he thought of it, and resolved new means to aid his fear when he determined to put an end to both He had raised his stool to put an end to Margaret and was just in the act of pulling the trigger, when a vision of Henry Woolcombe, like but more substantial than that which had perplexed him so many times, rose before him He had intended to bid Margaret go seek her lover in the grave, when this vision seemed to stand between him and his victim Vainly he conjured him to go, and with all his former vindictiveness he cursed him, but he would not go As Stephen passed his hand across his forehead as if to clear the vision away from before his eyes he saw, at such a shoulder like that of a man who had slain there stood a terrible murderer, and he fell heavily to the floor in a swoon while Henry still a few but very weak on this side and another for the [illegible] Here was [illegible] [illegible] such a scene [illegible] of the ship, the whole of the cabin was flooded, and her sides were rapidly giving way Henry looked about for the most likely means of reaching shore alive, he felt that he was too weak to swim especially with the burden of Margaret to support, and he thought to make a raft on which they might both get to land but before he was quite convinced of the hopelessness of the attempt, the deck parted from under them, the sides opened and fell outwards, and Henry and Margaret were struggling in the sea

How they came on shore, they knew not Some of the Morwenstow folk coming down to see how it fared with the wreck, found them half dead upon the beach locked in each other's arms

Sickness followed, and the neighbors thought Margaret could not get over it The wisest among them averred they had seen the ghost of Stephen Woolcombe standing by her bedside and calling her away, while others did not hesitate to say that her death would be the just reward of conduct such as hers has been towards Henry Woolcombe.

It was some time after the events narrated above that Henry Woolcombe and Margaret Stapleton became man and wife. In the house that Henry had built in the village of Morwenstow they lived happily and cheerfully together, growing daily in each other's love and affection, and in the esteem of all who knew them.

Of Stephen Woolcombe, and of the dark days with which his name had been associated, few ever spoke.

"It was powerless as soon as you really loved me, Madge," said Henry to his wife one day, when a series of untoward events having come upon them, she tried to account for them by a reference to the past, "It has no power while love is present."

He spoke of the curse his father had laid upon him, and fully believing in the doctrine he had enunciated, that love must ever triumph, even over fiendish hatred, he looked in his wife's face, and saw beyond a doubt how absurd it was, if his theory was true, that he should ever have need to fear his father or the malice of his enemies —Chamber's Magazine

(COMMERCIAL,)

San Francisco Established in 1854,

for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases such as Gonorrhœa, Ghost Stricture Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness Impotency etc Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs etc Will be treated Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering untold misery in consequence from the effects of solitude ignorance or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid countenances and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life! Is it not a horrid sight to see thousands suffer until death closes the scene Let parents, guardians friends attend to those who are suffering with any of those horrible life-destroying maladies see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful in the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in false days imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the obnoxious one of self-abuse This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an amount unlimited and is producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots about the loins weakness of the limbs, confused ideas, enfeebled intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers a dislike to form new acquaintances a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes pimples and sore throat about the face, confirmed fetid breath cough, consumption night sweats, nocturnal emissions and frequently fatality If relief be not obtained shortly rapidly hurries the victim by suicide or by letter and leaves a curse entailed upon his name and family Dr Gibbon has used and tested the true and only mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he ever treated this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief

TO THE LADIES.

The various complicated and distressing diseases incident to females, treated with unfailing success Such as Suppressions, Irregularities, Whites, Falling of the Womb Tumors, all Urinary Diseases, Nervous Debility Painful or Difficult Menstruation, Barrenness etc, will be speedily cured, without poisonous drugs, Quack or unpalatable medicines of any kind. Have no fear, as in calling, no difference what your trouble may be the afflicted are cordially invited to call and satisfy themselves

Persons calling at Dr Gibbon's office or sending for package of medicines, may rely upon his assurance of confidential secrecy with implicit faith and expect no more than to be charged with a fair and mutually satisfactory remuneration for services rendered, considering the circumstances and difficulties of cases, rather than a too prevalent and selfish practice of extortion among quacks and pretenders

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded free from observation curiously, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars sent in registered letter or through Wells Fargo & Co
